

NAPLES

Naples is a typical mediterranean city, where the blue sea is the background of a millenium history. Founded by the Greeks in the VII century B.C. it became one of the favorite holiday places of the rich Romans. During the medieval period it became an independent Dukedom and soon after it was the capital of a Kingdom for four centuries.

Greek, Romans, Byzantines, Normans, French and Spanish have all left their traces in its monuments and traditions.

Naples was built on the tomb of the siren Partenope and it continues to be a fascinating and musical place.

It is the city where the pizza was born and famous songs like O Sole Mio were written.

37 museums, 300 churches and one of Europes most beautiful undergrounds to be seen.

Not to forget its breathtaking setting of Vesuvio and Capri.

We also offer the possibility to do a mini course of pizza making organized by a famous neapolitan pizzaiolo.

POMPEII

A visit to the ancient Pompeii is an enchanting journey in the use and costumes of a rich city of the Roman Empire. In the year 79 D.C. the Vesuvius woke up from its lethargy and in only few hours Pompeii and its citizens were buried under meters and meters of volcanic ash and lapillus

The city was discovered only in 1748 so it was preserved from the elements and men.

Time stopped all of a sudden and today Pompeii is a snapshot of the daily life of that epoch.

Magnificent residences, shops, thermal baths, theatres temples, inns, hotels as well as a brothel and an amphitheater tell us what a high standard of living the pompeians had,

The bodies of the victims are a visual testimony of the greatest tragedy of the ancient world.

The vesuvian area is rich of archeological testimony therefore it's possible to integrate with the visit of the ancient pompeii another site: the patrician villas of Stabiae, the country villas of Boscoreale, Oplontis or Herculaneum.

Between the two tours one can have lunch in a typical restaurant, where the guest can try dishes taken from the recipes of Apicio, a famous chef of the ancient Rome.

A total immersion in the local history of two thousand years ago.

It is also possible to combine the visit of an archeological site with the visit of the Archaeological Museum or the ascension to the Vesuvius National Park.
